

TWENTY65

Tailored Water Solutions for Positive Impact

Thought Leadership Club Workshop

Workshop: Tuesday 20 June 2017, 10:00 – 16:00

Venue: 38 Mappin St, Workroom 2, University of Sheffield, S1 3JD

TWENTY65 is addressing the grand challenge of providing sustainable water for all by working in partnership across the water sector to tailor water systems so that they deliver positive impact on health, the environment, the economy and society

Join us to:

- Contribute your perspectives and opinions about the future of the water sector
- Be part of a collaborative team developing a roadmap to transform the UK water sector, or beyond, in the next 50 years
- Network with academics, supply chain companies, policy makers, water companies, and trade associations
- Identify further opportunities to get involved in the TWENTY65 research consortium and its activities

Registration

To book a place, please register at <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/twenty65-thought-leadership-club-tickets-34500782770>

Programme

The workshop will co-create performance metrics for the water systems of the future, testing those on a future scenario, to contribute to a roadmap of research to achieve sustainable water for all.

9.30	Arrival, coffee and registration
10.00	Welcome
10.05	Latest TWENTY65 updates – quick fire presentations on research progress
10.30	TWENTY65 Roadmap – reminder of Roadmap purpose
	Interactive sessions
10.45	Performance Metrics for Water Systems of the Future
11.15	Metrics development
12.00	Networking Lunch
12.45	Introduction to future scenario and creating 'silver basket' components.
13.30	Testing the basket components against the metrics
14.30	Refreshment Break
14.50	Metrics Review
15.10	Wrap up and close
15.30	Close